

DAMFINOS EXCLUSIVE

EXTRA! The most important Keaton discovery in a quarter of a century!

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN THIS!

A ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME opportunity to see TWO Keaton films that we guarantee you've never seen before.

Our first treat, presented Friday evening by film archivist Paul E. Gierucki, is a surprising new discovery—an early version of a silent Keaton feature that is vastly different from the way we see it now. This film includes additional footage not seen publicly since it was originally shown more than 80 years ago!

Our second find, shown Saturday, is the only known film Keaton had complete creative control over after 1928. Presented by Dale Duffy, stage manager for Keaton's 1957 stage production of Merton of the Movies, who literally rescued this gem from the trash after production. She will share stories, rare behind-the-scenes photos and more!

PLUS, FOR OUR SATURDAY NIGHT DOUBLE FEATURE EVENT:

We'll be screening: Battling Butler and The Navigator
With musical accompaniment by Dennis Scott.
